SALT RIVER INTERGROUP

THE SHOT HEARD AROUND THE AA WORLD

Ebby T's shotgun blast of late summer of 1934 will evermore resound throughout the fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous. Ebby was thirty-eight years old, alone and nearly destitute, living in his family's summer home in Manchester, Vermont. He had inherited $150,000 only five years earlier, but that mostly evaporated following the stock market crash of 1929. While well-intoxicated one late evening during the late summer of 1934 he began shooting at pigeons on his roof. Not a good idea in such a prestigious neighborhood. (Robert Todd Lincoln, the President's son once lived across the street!) So Ebby was off to court for the third time; he faced six months confinement.

However, a friend from earlier days, Cebra G, heard of his plight and got Ebby off the hook—his father was the judge! However, Ebby was paroled to live under the tutorship of well-respected millionaire Rowland Hazard. Rowland convinced Ebby to become a resident at Calvary Mission in downtown Manhattan. There he learned that his old schoolmate, Bill Wilson was deep into alcoholic despair. His "kitchen table" visit (pp. 8-9) eventually led Bill to Towns Hospital for treatment; he never drank again! As you know, just five short months later, Bill carried his sobriety message to Dr. Bob S in Akron Ohio which soon afterward signaled the birth of AA.

That was all that was eighty-five years ago, so you may ask: "What's the point?" Well, this short AA history story illustrates that what I do in AA today may have long lasting effects. If I transmit the actual Big Book Twelve Step program of action to the next person, I believe the effect will result in sobriety for those who follow, one to the next. However, if I just make up what seems sort of appropriate, like elaborating on the steps from the clubhouse wall, the long-lasting results will be quite different. Sadly, through the years, I note such half-measure practices on the rise.

A pool player once stated: "I try to make all my shots count!" My hope and desire are that all my Twelve Step shots will be from the Big Book, so they will be heard through the years, but not from some superficial easier softer way. Ebby's kitchen table message to Bill was the Oxford Group message from which our steps were mainly derived. Page 77 tells us: "Our real purpose is to fit ourselves to be of maximum service to God and the people about us." You see what I mean.

Tradition Eleven

Tradition Eleven

Our public relations policy is based on attraction rather than promotion; we need always maintain personal anonymity at the level of press, radio, and films.

Carrying the message without any need to show off my own success, desire to be praised or even honored for it, is part of "living in my spiritual state of mind". I can do it from the selfless place in my being I have evolved in understanding so far. It's important for me to remember principles like anonymity, selflessness and unity when I attempt to share my experience strength & hope. I've learned both inside and outside the rooms, this is necessary. "Am I careful about throwing AA names around—even within the Fellowship?" It is not easy. It is learned. Am willing to work that 10th step.

It's been a challenge for me in social media too! I'll likely never have to worry about this at the level of press, radio and film. However, I am active on the internet and I have experienced my own learning curve when it comes to what I post that is public and what is restricted to private or closed groups. As I am a work in progress, I'm certain you are too. So from a place of respect and common welfare, before I post, I ask myself, what's my real motive or intention.? Am I coming from a place of selflessness and unity or is something else going on.?

Tradition Eleven Checklist

Our public relations policy is based on attraction rather than promotion; we need always maintain personal anonymity at the level of press, radio and films.

Do I sometimes promote AA so fanatically that I make it seem unattractive?
Am I always careful to keep the confidences reposed in me as an AA member?
Am I careful about throwing AA names around—even within the Fellowship?
Am I ashamed of being a recovered, or recovering, alcoholic?
What would AA be like if we were not guided by the ideas in Tradition Eleven?
Where would I be?
Is my AA sobriety attractive enough that a sick drunk would want such a quality for himself?

Concept Eleven

While the Trustees hold final responsibility for A.A.'s world service administration, they should always have the assistance of the best possible standing committees, corporate service directors, executives, staffs and consultants. Therefore the composition of these underlying committees and service boards, the personal qualifications of their members, the manner of their induction into service, the systems of their rotation, the way in which they are related to each other, the special rights and duties of our executives, staffs and consultants, together with a proper basis for the financial compensation of these special workers, will always be matters for serious care and concern.

The Trustees and the General Service Board have a committee with sub-committees staffed with people to do specific tasks. Some of the Trustees and staff are non-A.A. to maintain balance in this part of our service structure. They have qualifications and personal experience in their field which play a part in their committee or board.

When their rotation is up, they recommend the best possible candidate for their position to keep the process moving forward at all times. So the committees and boards are adequately staffed with the right executives, staff, consultants and special workers each with special rights and duties. Along with the special workers properly compensated.

The five standing committees of the General Service Board are, the Nominating Committee, the Finance and Budgetary Committee, the Public Information Committee, the Literature Committee and the General Policy Committee. Each working independently as well as collectively as a whole with world service.

All of this being done keeping the Traditions in mind, Not letting personalities get in the way and Avoiding temptation of promotion.

Do we understand how the roles of nontrustee directors and nontrustee appointed committee members help serve and strengthen the committee system?

Concept Eleven Checklist

The trustees should always have the best possible committees, corporate service directors, executives, staff, and consultants. Composition, qualifications, induction procedures, and rights and duties will always be matters of serious concern.

Do we understand how the roles of nontrustee directors and nontrustee appointed committee members help serve and strengthen the committee system?

How do we encourage our special paid workers to exercise their traditional "Right of Participation"?

Do we practice rotation in all our service positions?

The words that I share below with you my sober family are not my own words. I was stuck on my amends list. There was a woman on my list that I owed a huge amends to. I got lucky and found AA. She found ten years in Prison. I prayed for years on this amends and for her. Faith put me in the path of her teenage daughter. We exchanged info, she provided me her mom's contact info in State Prison. Several months past, fear strangled me. Her daughter texted me and ask why I havent sent a letter yet to her mom. Well I couldn't lie to this young girl. I told her I was afraid, scared and could not lift the thousand pound pen. Her daughter never responded. A few weeks later. I get a letter in the mail. I share with you part of that letter. Our work in prisons, jails and institutions do make a huge difference. She has been sober behind bars for around eight years. I share this letter with those that struggle with acceptance that things are always right in Gods world even locked up.

Thank you with love,

Doug Mc

A reason, a season, a lifetime

People come into your life for a reason, a season, a lifetime. When you know which one it is, you will know what to do for that person. When someone is in your life for a reason it is usually to meet a need, a want a desire you have expressed. They come to assist you through a difficulty, to provide you with guidance and support. To aide you physically, emotionally or spiritually. They may seem like a Godsend and they are there for the reason you need. Then without any wrong doing on your part or at an inconvenient time, this person will say or do something to bring that the relationship to an end. Sometimes they die, sometimes they act up and force you to take a stand and create a boundary. What we must realize is that need has to be met our desire fulfilled, thier work is done. The prayer you up has been answered and now it's time to move on. Some people come into your life for a season, because your turn has come to share, grow or learn. They bring you an experience of peace or make you laugh. They may teach you something you have never done, felt or experienced. They usually give you an unbelievable amount if joy. Believe it, it is real, but only for a season. Lifetime relationships teach you lifetime lessons, things you must build upon in order to have a solid emotional foundation. Your job is to accept the lesson, love the person and put what you have learned to use in all other relationships and areas of your life. It is said love is blind and relationships are clairvoyant. Thank you for being part of my life, whether a reason, a season or a lifetime.

Accessibility Committee

Do you know a blind or vision impaired AA Member?
 What about a deaf or hearing-impaired member?
 Perhaps someone who had surgery and is confined at home; is in a physical rehab; is confined to a living facility and is one of us?
 ~If so, you can assist us in our service work by letting us know their name and a way to contact them so that we can offer our services to them and help them feel included.
 ~If you are one of us and have additional barriers to full participation, please contact us: We are here to help.
