Tradition 1

Our common welfare should come first; personal recovery depends upon AA unity.

When I think of AA Unity, I think of phrases like "similarities and not the differences", "love and tolerance" or "our leaders are but trusted servants, they do not govern". Within my loving home group, my experience in service and in AA as a whole, all points to our common welfare so we can carry the message. For Alcoholics Anonymous members, our group conscience guides our group decisions and actions. The group conscience is moved by members who practice the principles in all affairs, hopefully. We are not saints. But, when the common welfare comes first, this tradition of Unity, keeps the group focused on how to live life on life's terms, in a group. Establishing common welfare relationships are the only way to practice good orderly direction and that's why I find the fellowship so important.

When I finally knew that sobriety was going to be a way of life for me, I hungered for step work. If it wasn't for the Unity of my home group and others groups like mine, I would have never re-connected with a power greater than myself. I'll call it God for good reference. In nature it can be noted that all of Earths natural events and living beings support each other within their ecosystem. The earth is capable of renewing and sustaining life. In the Grapevine book, "Our Twelve Traditions", a story titled, "Only Natural" by Ed C notes, an "ecological paradox" that demonstrates the beautiful key of Unity. Ed quotes from the Twelve and Twelve," The AA member has to conform to the principals of recovery. His life actually depends upon it." So too does the common welfare of a group have the ability to renew and sustain itself when its members strive for spiritual growth driven by the principals. Each step boasts a principal and behind Step 6 & 7, willingness and humility, direct our intention. As a group, each member gives attention to the other in humble gratitude and willingness to do whats right for the group. And while each group remains autonomous, there's no budging in working the principals into our group affairs, or at least learning to begin at trying. This is right action. There are times when this will mean self-sacrifice by the individual. This is right action. For that, I am responsible.

Am I in my group a healing, mending, integrating person, or am I divisive? What about gossip and taking other members' inventories?

Concept 1

The final responsibility and the ultimate authority for A.A. world services should always reside in the collective conscience of our whole Fellowship.

- Ultimate Responsibility Belongs to the Groups -

I have a Voice, I take it to my Group it possibly becomes a Group Conscience which then is carried through all the levels of A.A. by our Representatives all the way to World Services.

My thought alone. Paul R.

Does your group have a general service representative (G.S.R.)? Do we feel that our home group is part of A.A. as a whole and do our group's decisions and actions reflect that?
