From Your Steering Committee

Hello! It is summer time again here in Phoenix. Time for vacations and traveling for a lot of us. The meetings I attend seem to shrink a little this time of year as members are enjoying time with family during the summer months and the holidays associated with it. For me, I enjoy checking out new meetings where I may be at during trips. It is interesting to hear how others outside of my normal meetings stay sober and also get a different perspective from others on familiar topics I hear at the meetings I frequent. It is also a great way to enlarge my friendship group and enjoy meeting them again when they are in town and join us for a meeting at my home group or at a convention that we may both wind up attending. I always try to work in some time to attend a new meeting when traveling and summertime is a great time for that. Happy summer to all and wishing you some new friendships and great fellowships.

Tradition 7

"Every A.A. group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions." Note that the long form of this tradition is clear and maybe less ambiguous than any other. It is too lengthy for publish along with this article, but recommended reading by this author.

The 12 x 12 states: "Probably no A.A. tradition had the labor pains this one did". During our flying blind period of our society's first decade, money issues caused great consternation among our fellowship and many lessons were learned about what threatened our all-important unity and collective spiritual growth as a society.

Just as the individual takes responsibility for their sobriety first, so should each A.A. group first meet their own financial responsibilities to fulfill the groups' primary purpose. This is where groups mature through group conscience on how to best handle A.A.'s money. When the hat is passed under the guise of the seventh tradition, the group become stewards of A.A.'S money. It is not the groups money. Group autonomy expressed by group conscience on how to best utilize A.A.'S money to fulfill its primary purpose, is each groups autonomous prerogative.

A.A.'s emergence as a worldwide fellowship, naturally exposes financial needs to operate successfully on many levels. A.A.'s General Service Office (GSO) published a self-support statement saying "... the seventh tradition is more than simply paying for rent and other group expenses. It is both a privilege and a responsibility of individual groups and members to ensure that our organization, at every level, remains forever self-supporting...." In the October 1967 Grapevine Bill W. wrote, "Our support of services actually amounts to recognition on our part that A.A. must everywhere function at full strength – and that, under our tradition of self-support, we are all going to foot the bill."

Tradition Checklist

- Honestly now, do I do all I can to help AA (my group, my central office, my GSO) remain self-supporting?
- Does my group have a "prudent reserve"? If yes, do I know what that amount is?
- If a family member, work colleague or close friend who is not an A.A. member wants to make a financial contribution to my group, should my group accept it? What if my group is short on funds?

Concept 7

Short = "The Charter and Bylaws of the General Service Board are legal instruments, empowering the trustees to manage and conduct world service affairs. The Conference Charter is not a legal document; it relies upon tradition and the A.A. purse for final effectiveness."

Long = The Conference recognizes that the Charter and the Bylaws of the General Service Board are legal instruments: that the Trustees are thereby fully empowered to manage and conduct all of the world service affairs of Alcoholics Anonymous. It is further understood that the Conference Charter itself is not a legal document: that it relies instead upon the force of tradition and the power of the A.A. purse for its final effectiveness.

Principle of the Concept: BALANCE

One Thing You Need To Know: The Board Can Override the Conference When Necessary

Simplify:

The Board Can Override the Conference When Necessary. The charter and bylaws of the General Service Board (GSB) ARE legal documents. The charter of the General Service Conference (GSC) IS NOT. Period! Because of that, there may be times where the Conference has, shall we say, gone off the deep end, and the Trustees (legally or otherwise) need to reel them back in through the vetoing of a Conference action. The Trustees have "legal authority," where the Conference only has "moral authority," from Twelve Concepts of World Service Illustrated.

This Concept attempts to clarify the relationship and "balance of powers" between the Conference and the General Service Board. "This . . . may look like the collision of an irresistible force with an immovable object." On the one hand, "the board is invested with complete legal power over A.A.'s funds and services; on the other hand the Conference is clothed with such great influence and financial power it could overcome the legal rights of the board.

"Thus, the practical power of the Conference is, in the final analysis, superior to the legal power of the board. This superior power derives from the traditional influence of the Conference Charter itself; from the fact that the delegates chosen by the groups always constitute more than two-thirds of the Conference members"; and finally from the ability of the delegates to cut off financial support by the groups.

"Theoretically, the Conference is an advisory body only; but practically speaking, it has all the ultimate power it may ever need."

The Conference "recommends" — though its recommendations have the force of directives to the board. The board executes these recommendations. The board does have the legal authority to veto a Conference recommendation — but in actual practice, it never has done so. As Bill tactfully puts it, the trustees "simply refrain from using their legal right to say 'no' when it would be much wiser, all things considered, to say 'yes.'"

"If . . . the Conference will always bear in mind actual rights, duties, responsibilities and legal status of the General Service Board, and if the trustees . . . will constantly realize that the Conference is the real seat of ultimate service authority . . . neither will be seriously tempted to make a 'rubber stamp' out of the other . . . In this way, grave issues will always be resolved and harmonious cooperation will be the general rule."

Concept 7 Checklist

- Do we act responsibly regarding the "power of the purse"?
- Do we realize that the practical and spiritual power of the Conference will nearly always be superior to the legal power of the G.S.B.?

We Wish You So Many Happys!

We are currently updating our Old Timers data base. Please email any changes to info@sriphoenix.org. If you have 25+ years and would like to be added please email your sobriety date, address, phone number and email to: info@sriphoenix.org or call Terry at Central Office 602-264-1374.

The Office Says

We are so very grateful for all our volunteers and especially the ones that come into the office to cover phones or cover the shop or both.

We are looking for someone to answer phones on Mon night as well as Tues night, both 6-11. If you are interested please contact the office at: info@sriphoenix.org

We wish you a safe, smooth and splendid Independence Day weekend.

In Service,
Terry and Sandy
